Pastor's Column

Elections:

As near as I can figure, if there has been widespread fraudulent mail in voting, the only way to prove it is through the use of validated signatures in a recount system. With mail in ballots, validated signatures must correspond with the signature on the ballot and voter registration at the deputy registrar's office. If signatures cannot be validated on the ballots and the voter registration at the registrar's office, then the ballots are determined to be illegal/fraudulent.

Only state legislators can change the voting laws in a given state. If the state legislators enact laws that do not support validated signatures, then they make laws that support illegal fraudulent voting, and there is nothing that can be done about such illegal fraudulent voting that becomes validated by law. Because such law makers will claim voter suppression if you try to use validated signatures to assure legal voting. If the state laws were changed by “the states attorney” or by “an election group” then the laws changed to protect illegal fraudulent voting are indeed illegal and court action can be taken to reveal the fraud.

As far as recounts, only the recounts that consider validated signatures can reveal areas of fraud, eg. dead people voting, or a single person voting multiple times, or people from outside the state voting as a citizen of that state, etc....

If there are problems with the electronic counting machines then some sort of auditing needs to be done of the counting machine system to reveal the errors. The electronic recounts are under another set of scrutiny in order to avoid multiple recounting of the same ballots over and over, or changing votes that support one candidate to show that they support another candidate. This requires some sort of an eternal verifiable auditing procedure. Ballot harvesting is another illegal practice where political operatives collect voter ballots and personally turn them in at polling stations. The problem with this method is that it has been proven to be full of fraud, voter intimidation and the actual creation of votes.

This election cycle is a very complicated thing, especially with all of the mail in ballots due to the covid virus. So keep praying for truth to be revealed and justice to be done. If we do not have assured fair elections, then we are in serious danger as a nation and need to have justice prevail. If the elections have been fair, then we need to accept the outcome and pray for our leaders. Fr. Doug Binsfeld

First Sunday of Advent

A Family Perspective by Bud Ozar

Today's gospel tells us to "Be watchful." This comes natural to families. Parents are watchful of their children's health, grades and friends. Children are watchful of parental moods. Today's gospel encourages us to use this ability to see God acting in the innocence, tenderness, love and forgiveness of your family. "Be watchful," the Lord is already with you.

Envelopes for both parishes: Please pick up your envelopes, available now in the back of the Church (cry room at IC). If you don't see yours please contact the parish office.

Altar Flowers: If you would like to donate altar flowers for our weekend Mass contact Julie Spiering or the church office.

Collection Baskets: Just a quick reminder that since we are not currently taking up collection at offertory due to coronavirus restrictions, collection baskets are at the front of the church at both parishes. For those not coming to Sunday Mass, you can certainly still mail in or drop off a donation to the parish if you like; if you're dropping off a donation other than before or after Mass, it's better to use the mailbox than the basket.

Catholic Daughters meeting will be December 14th following CDC guidelines of social distancing and wearing masks. Rosary at 6 pm with meeting following.

Parish Information: Just a reminder each of our parishes has a parish web site, you will find the weekly bulletins, upcoming activities, CTK Liturgical schedule, and links to Daily Readings, Saint of the Day, Catechism, New American Bible and much more.
